

AMEDD Civilians,

This is the time of year when gifts are given and we begin to think about blessings for the holiday season and the new year. I consider you a gift to me and to Army Medicine, so both of us are truly blessed this season. Thank you for what you do every day to lead the charge for the success of our Team. We in the Corps Office wish you the very best for all things good in this holiday season and throughout all of 2013. We truly look forward to the adventures and the blessings that you will all be to the Army Medicine Team. Nancy, Marty, and I hope your own holidays are filled with family and goodness.

For those of you who pray for shorter messages, this one is our gift to you! Three quick items:

--A reminder that applications for The Surgeon General's Commander's Initiatives Group (CIG) are due to us by 11 Jan 13. Instructions and guidelines are available on the Civilian Corps website (<https://ameddciviliancorps.amedd.army.mil>) under "What's New".

--Due to the holidays we are extending the submission deadline for the Wolf Pack Award for the 2nd Quarter to 14 Jan 13. We look forward to hearing the great things your civilian and military teams are doing together.

--We'll have a regular message (yes, FULL length!) out next week with any kind of luck.

Until then, be safe and enjoy your families and the holidays. As always, do so safely. Remember, if there is no safety, there can be no joy! Many blessings.

Sincerely,

Gregg
